

Half of the clothes in our wardrobes are never worn, and one third of food produced globally ends up in the bin. Meanwhile, our planet is on fire and people everywhere are struggling to make ends meet.

Olio is an app that solves this injustice by allowing people to pass on household items and food they no longer need to locals living nearby. By encouraging sharing or borrowing instead of throwing things away or buying new, Olio helps avoid waste while supporting communities and the planet.

Originally created to fight food waste, Olio is now fighting against anything going to waste. We believe this will empower everyone to become part of the solution and solve the climate crisis by ending waste, one share at a time.

Over the past 7 years Olio has grown from a local initiative in North London to a global movement. We now have 7 million users who have given away almost 100 million portions of food and 8 million household items across 62 countries.

This growth has been underpinned by our incredible ambassador programme, with over 75,000 people helping to spread the word about Olio in their local community. We are also helping over 4,500 businesses across the UK - including Tesco, Pret, Costa and Iceland - to reach zero food waste via our Food Waste Heroes Programme, in which trained Olio volunteers collect unsold food and redistribute it to their local communities via the app.

We've been recognised by the United Nations, who highlighted Olio as a "beacon" for the world, and by Vivatech who awarded Olio "Next European Unicorn".

The goal now is to get everyone into the world-changing habit of sharing. Join us on our mission to transform global consumption, by reaching 1 billion Olio-ers by the end of 2030.

Join our team

To help take Olio's growth and impact to the next level, we're recruiting for a Analytics Intern to undertake a sampling analysis of listings. The results of this analysis will be used by Olio to improve impact reporting. The Analytics Intern will report into a Senior Analytics Manager.

In this role you will be responsible for:

- manually reviewing approximately 2,200 Olio listings
- estimating various impact related values for each listing, including value, weight and item count

The work should take approximately 20 working days to complete, through June and July 2023, and will be paid the UK London living wage (£11.95 per hour). This is a remote position with the option of flexible working hours. Applicants must have the right to work in the UK.

Is this you?

Our ideal candidate will first and foremost be as passionate about our mission as we are. In addition to this, you have the following attributes:

- Ability to accurately assess the value and weight of items listed on Olio, using either suggested resources or finding additional resources if needed
- Comfortable using Google Sheets / Excel

All Olio team members share these attributes:

- Mission obsessed
- Self-starters with a 'can-do' attitude
- Resourceful and creative
- Thorough, but able to move quickly and decisively
- A ruthless ability to prioritise
- Excellent communication skills
- Fun to work with 😊

We boast a diverse team: with 28 nationalities, across an age range that spans early 20s to 45+, with 24% identifying as coming from a lower economic background, and a strong female presence in the company (59%).

Our team members come from a range of ethnic backgrounds (24%), as well as from the LGBTQ+ community (29%), and those who identify as neuro-divergent (38%) and disabled (6%).

We are part of the All-In Promise, and we are committed to keep this going as we grow, and encourage people from all backgrounds to apply.

How to apply

Please send your CV and covering email explaining why you are the right person for this role to hiring-analytics-intern@olioapp.com with the subject line "Application: Analytics Intern" by 4 June 2023.